Dear All,

The brightest and the largest object in our night sky is the Moon, which is also known as Luna. The Moon balances the earth's tilt on its orbit. It is the Moon which causes the seasonal changes, influences the tides and aids nocturnal animals to navigate.

- The same Moon always faces the same side towards the Earth.
- The same side of the Moon always faces the earth.
- The Moon is drifting away from the Earth every year by 3.8cms.
- A person would weigh much less on the Moon than Earth.
- The Moon has quakes just like earthquakes.
- The Moon is the fifth largest natural satellite in the solar system.
- The Moon's surface is actually dark.
- The study of Moon is called Selenography.
